About this week's paper . . . .

For the third time in less than a year, THE NEWS has provided its subscribers something above and beyond the regular reporting of routine news in its area.

This week's edition includes 16 pages of pictorial review of the 1964 Banana Festival, and will undoubtedly become a keepsake for generations. For that reason we have tried to make it the most interesting that we could assemble, and we believe that the 125 pictures tell a story that a million words could not. We hope you enjoy it, and invite your comments.

Extra copies of the entire paper may be purchased for 25c per copy, and we will handle mail orders promptly. Please add 10c per copy for mailing, and send your check with order to eliminate record-keeping.

There is a story on this front page today that I know will excite you as much as it has excited Paul and me, and all the members of the News staff, as well as a lot of interested people with whom we have been talking about a possible Community Center for Fulton. We hope that you will not speak of the Center as a foregone conclusion, for there are many, many, many obstacles that must be overcome before that first inch of dirt is turned over for the ground-breaking. To tell you the truth there is so much work to be done, that people with more sense than we have would forget about the whole matter.

Yet, I shall always remember what my beloved mother would say to her large brood when dark moments in our lives brought on despair and disappointment. She would urge us to keep a strong faith in ourselves and have courage to overcome the obstacle, with this reminder: "It's nothing but a try!" Bless her, our efforts invariably ended in success. But we failed sometimes and we might in this community center effort. "But it's nothing but a try," for I might add, "nothing ventured is nothing gained."

Many of you will be called upon to help. Knowing you as I do . . . that help undoubtedly will be forthcoming on a voluntary basis.

Charles Reams need not worry about the value of his advertising in the News. Our subscribers read his advertisements and are impressed by them. For instance one of our correspondents wrote recently that they were going to visit in Pepsi Cola, Florida. They were really going to Pensacola, but so what? It's refreshing too!

With the 16-page pictorial Banana Festival supplement to the News this week, the second annual festival will be relegated to the archives of some pleasant local history. Paul and I labored over those pictures and lay-outs for hours, upon hours, trying to portray the real story of the Festival for posterity.

We think we succeeded. When Paul and I went to Paducah Tuesday night to attend a press dinner, graciously hosted by those wonderful people at the Paducah Sun-Democrat, we took about a dozen copies of the issue to give to some of the press folks and to Senator Humphrey and Governor Breathitt. Their comments were uttered in such superlatives that we forgot the midnight oil we burned to get it out.

Some of the folks were surprised that Paul and I were still speaking after all that back-breaking work. To tell you the truth we didn't speak very cordially to each other about midnight some nights, but after being praised a little we think we're the best man and wife newspaper team on Commercial Avenue.

Excerpt from a letter to Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Bennett from Col. Julian Lindsey (Ann's father-in-law) (USA ret.), Washington, D. C.

"The story of your Banana Festival was spilled over the radio and TV waves in these parts and I would say that the Washington, D. C. area is well aware of that event. I would also say that Fulton has a better publicity program or agent than even the well-known Winchester, Virginia Apple Blossom Festival, since the radio and TV coverage was equal, if not more than what the Apple (Continued on page Twelve)

Hope Of Community Center Brightens As Humphrey, Breathitt Pledge Help

A giant civic center for the twin cities, that might hopefully be named the Latin-American Friendship Center, gained impetus Tuesday night when two top-ranking Democratic leaders pledged their support and deep interest in such a project that has been the dream and hope of West Kentuckians for many years.

Minnesota Senator Hubert Humphrey, seeking the office of Vice-president on the national Democratic ticket headed by President Lyndon B. Johnson, and Kentucky Governor Edward T. Breathitt jointly expressed deep interest in the exploratory efforts being made by several Fultonians to establish such a center here. Having been shown an advance copy of this week's pictorial edition of the News, depicting the highly successful events of the second annual Banana Festival, Bob Jensen, press attache to Senator Humphrey told the News Wednesday:

"Senator Humphrey was deeply impressed with the dedicated planning of your twin cities to create understanding with Latin-American countries through your Banana Festival's program. Senator Humphrey has long advocated such people-to-people programs as a means to making friendships with countries all over the world."

The press secretary added: "The efforts being made to establish a center that could serve as a clearing house for many such people-to-people programs is a giant step in the right direction. Senator Humphrey would consider it an honor to assist in whatever way he can to bring the dream of your communities into reality." Jensen told a News reporter Tuesday.

Meanwhile Governor Edward T. Breathitt, who attended the Banana Festival on Latin-American Day, again commended the entire community "for the vision and initiative and hard work it took to focus national attention on your communities and for the dedicated efforts to know and work with the people in these banana-producing countries with whom you have so much in common."

Governor Breathitt also pledged the assistance of his Administration to seek Federal funds with which to build the center. Field McChesney, executive assistant to Governor Breathitt elaborated on the assistance the Governor's office could give to the project. In a telephone conversation with Mrs. Paul Westpheling, on Wednesday morning, Mr. McChesney said: "The unusual nature of your proposed community center has so many possibilities for commerce, tourism and good foreign relations, the Governor's office will do whatever necessary to make contacts with the many philanthropic foundations that would be vitally interested in the nature of your Friendship Center."

Preliminary research on the community center is being done by a small group of local citizens as a public service. Fulton City Manager Rollin Shaw has discussed the financial aspects of the proposed project with personal friends in the Atlanta office of the Federal Housing Administration. Mrs. Westpheling has discussed the matter fully with John Whisman, Governor Breathitt's special assistant on Federally-financed programs. Mr. Whisman, a brilliant and highly competent administrator, is advising the local group on procedures for acquiring available Federal loans and grants.

At the same time Mayor Gilbert DeMyer has made it known that when preliminary reports are gathered and completed he will appoint a Community Center Authority to proceed with the legal and financial aspects of the project.

Recent experiences during the Banana Festival, when rain hampered many of the outdoor programs, brought on more enthusiastic talk about the dire need of a community center for this West

Kentucky area. Realizing that there is hardly an auditorium large enough from Louisville to Memphis that could accommodate more than 2000 persons, a few Banana Festival planners concluded that with the expansion of the Banana Festival, and with the growing need for large auditorium space to handle large conventions, public speaking and cultural and entertainment events, it was time to go to work, and stop talking about the need for a Community Center.

A prospectus, gutting the various City, State and Federal uses for the center is being prepared by Mrs. Westpheling. In order to interest all these various segments, the prospectus will include the possibilities of the center housing such programs as:

A clearing house for the exchange of college students from Mid-west universities and Latin-American schools; a Latin-American Trade Mart where importers and exporters can show their wares, perhaps at six-month intervals; an industrial exposition center, where major Kentucky and Mid-west industries can set up permanent exhibits for year-round review by tourists and industrialists;

Also a vocational training center for adult education and for school drop-outs; a recreation center; a convention center for both large and small groups; a civic center; a tourist information center; a civilian defense center. Perhaps even some municipal and area State offices could be included in the plans.

It is hoped that the center could maintain the operation of a full-time restaurant, since the advent of the Jackson Purchase Parkway would bring many more motorists and tourists through the city, necessitating additional restaurants and over-night accommodations.

Lee Potter Smith and Associates, architects of Paducah, have been asked to submit preliminary drawings for the center. When they are completed and the approximate cost of the center can be known, applications will be made to those Federal agencies concerned with giving grants to such public works.

Paxton Urges Voters To Review Mental Health Programs With Democratic Aid

Frank R. Paxton, Kentucky's Campaign Chairman for the Democratic party today urged all Kentuckians to give thoughtful consideration to the strides made in the State to help the mentally ill. He urged also, that Kentucky voters review the great financial assistance given to the mental retardation program by the national Democratic Administration, and especially by President Lyndon B. Johnson, and the late President John F. Kennedy. Paxton is publisher of the Paducah Sun-Democrat.

In calling attention to this broad, humanitarian program in Kentucky, Paxton does so "mindful of the fact that Arizona Senator Barry Goldwater has gone on record as abolishing this Federal assistance and relegating such a vital and necessary program to already heavily burdened private agencies."

Here is Mr. Paxton's letter to his fellow Kentuckians.

Dear Fellow Kentuckian:

I am aware of your interest in mental health programs. Because of your concern for the mentally ill, I am certain you will also be concerned about the outcome of the November presidential election.

I think it is important that you be aware of what the mentally ill have at stake in the forthcoming political race.

You know of the progress we have made in Kentucky in improving our state mental institutions and establishing facilities and personnel at the community level to treat mental disorders. Even though our progress has been significant, we have a long way to go before our mental health

Henderson's Audubon Park Is A Nature Lover's Delight

3-A The Fulton News, Thursday, Oct. 22, 1964

For a pleasant blending of the past and present, an explorer of Kentucky need go no farther than the State park near Henderson which bears the name of John James Audubon, famous pioneer painter and student of American birds in their natural habitat.

Audubon was born 179 years ago April 26.

Nestling in the midst of the heavily-forested park is the Audubon Museum, a French-Norman structure of native stone, which houses the world's finest collections of Audubon paintings, engravings and lithographs. The celebrated ornithologist roamed the area from 1810 through 1819.

Audubon State Park today provides excellent accommodations in rustic cottages alongside a lake. There are picnic grounds, a tent and trailer section and such recreational features as swimming, boating and fishing.

Henderson was the release-point last December 7 for the commemorative U. S. postage stamp featuring one of Audubon's famed bird engravings, the "Columbia Jay". So enthusiastically has this third stamp in the U. S. Postal Department's artist series been received that it has already gone into a second printing.

Henderson was chosen for first sale of the Audubon stamp because of its many and varied connections with the "magnificent misfit", the man of mystery who produced the now world-famous "elephant" portfolio of engravings, "Birds of America".

Audubon spent 10 of his most productive years in the woodlands of Henderson County. He brought his young wife, Lucy Bakewell, to Henderson to live in 1810, two years after their marriage in Pennsylvania. In Henderson County is the grave of their little daughter Lucy, buried on the cemetery plot of the General Samuel Hopkins family. He often referred to his artist sons, Victor and John Wodehouse, as "My Kentucky sons".

It was in Henderson on the Holloway farm that Audubon did his famed drawing of the turkey cock while the live bird was being held by young Rebecca Holloway. Many of his best-known bird images were caught here where bird migrations follow the Mississippi Flyway. On a giant beech in what is now Audubon State Park, the French-born naturalist carved his name, "J. J. Audubon".

It was in Henderson, too, that Audubon and Fernand Fozier conducted a mercantile business, and later Audubon built a sawmill and grist mill on the banks of the Ohio. The city-owned Audubon Mill Park, on the riverfront, marks the locale where the mill once stood.

Audubon Memorial Museum contains 110 oil paintings by Audubon and his two talented sons, 138 original lithographs, a collection of 120 of the original engravings in the Birds of America series, and portraits of Audubon, Lucy Bakewell Audubon, and sons Victor and John Wodehouse Audubon.

The seven galleries of this charming building are given over to a display of Audubonia, including hair jewelry which the artist fashioned, letters written by him, business accounts kept by him, family silver and other personal mementoes which form a part of the family collection.

In the nearby Audubon Tea House, is an interesting collection of non-Audubon items including a variety of stuffed birds and animals native to the area, and the skeleton of a giant mastodon unearthed in a Henderson creek bed.

Audubon State Park has been developed by the State of Kentucky to lure and delight the nature lover. Marked trails lead through the hills and valleys of virgin timberland which Audubon roamed during his 10-year residence. Trees along one of the nature trails are marked with identifying names. In the spring, the earth is carpeted in the delicate hues of myriad wild flowers. In the depths of the majestic woods, hikers commune with nature, and find identity with the wild life which includes a wide variety of the native birds Audubon sketched.

The sound of carillon bells periodically breaks the silence of the forest.

Audubon State Park, 385 acres of which were donated by nature-loving philanthropic families of Henderson County, is located on north-south U. S. 41, near the junction of east-west U. S. 60.

The park is the scene of a semi-annual official bird count because of the rich bird population of the area. Under stimulus of Kentucky's first Audubon Society at Henderson, the Audubon State Park local advisory board devoted some of the John Duncan funds to the development of a feeding ground for birds.

Audubon State Park has a lure not characteristic of other recreational parks because of its identification with the artist whose origin was cloaked in mystery. Although history records that he was born in Santa Domingo at Les Cayes, the son of Jean Audubon, a French naval officer, and a French Creole, Mlle. Rabin, legend has it that he may have been of royal blood, the son of Marie Antoinette, and Louis XVI of France. It has never been proved, nor satisfactorily disproved, that he was the lost Dauphin.

The young boy was taken early in his life to Captain Audubon's estate, Le Gerbetiere, at Nantes, France. He was formally adopted by Jean Audubon and his French wife. After 12 years of intermittent schooling he was sent in 1803 to his father's estate near Norris-town, Pennsylvania, "Mill Grove". Captain Audubon intended that his son look after his lead mining interests, but the tall, long-haired young man of 19 spent his time roaming the wooded hills, hunting, painting and collecting. He banded a young phoebe to see if it would come back in the spring, an original motion that was the first bird-banding experiment in America. At Mill Grove, he courted the beautiful Lucy Bakewell whose father's property adjoined his own.

After their marriage in 1803, he swept into a maelstrom of painting and writing, neglecting a series of business enterprises in both Louisville and Henderson, Kentucky. Local legend holds he was once jailed for debt in Henderson.

As Audubon's family responsibilities increased, he combined his search for new birds to paint with the drab realism of earning a living. He became a painter of portraits and street signs. He even gave dancing lessons and engaged in taxidermy.

Audubon painted his Birds of America life size. He could not find a publisher in America who could engrave them in such proportions. He took his paintings to Europe in 1826, going first to Edinburgh, Scotland, where William Lizars did the first 10 plates. Lizars had labor trouble, so Audubon went to London, England, where Robert Havell & Sons engraved the remaining 425 plates, publishing the entire 435 life-size engravings in one book, "Birds of America", the so-called "elephant" portfolio.

The copper plates were engraved by hand, lightly inked, and struck off on Whatman paper, then hand colored. The original edition was fewer than 200, and the price of these sets was $1,000. A person would be lucky to purchase an original folio for $40,000 today—if one could be found.

One of the original copper plates is included in the Audubon Memorial Museum collection at Henderson, that of the Canada Goose. The Audubon Museum "elephant" portfolio contains water-marked originals of both the Lizars and Havell editions.

FHS Has Two New Teachers

"From The FHS Kennel"

Two new teachers have been added to the faculty of Fulton High School this year. They are Mrs. Ellen Varden, originally from Hickman, Kentucky, and Mrs. Judy Marchman, from Macon, Georgia.

Mrs. Varden, while attending Hickman High School, was a majorette, president of the International Relation Club, member of the Beta Club and Future Teachers of America. She was also valedictorian of her class.

Graduating from the University of Kentucky, Mrs. Varden was on the Student Union Topic Committee, the Young Democrat Club, and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Mrs. Varden has taught in St. Petersburg, Florida and in Lexington, Kentucky. She also toured Europe during the summer of 1962.

Her hobbies are camping, swimming, and mountain climbing, which she has done in New Hampshire and Maine. She likes Fulton High School very much and finds the students very courteous and full of school spirit.

Mrs. Marchman graduated from McEvoy High School in Macon. She was on the staff of the school paper, president of Beta Honorary Society, a member of the Dramatic and Spanish Clubs, and a senior superlative.

She is a graduate of Mercer University in Macon, where she received the Macon City Scholarship two consecutive years. Mrs. Varden is teaching social studies, and Mrs. Marchman is teaching English. Both will sponsor the school newspaper and

The building was designed so that additions could conveniently be made to it.

An 8 year old model Kentucky Tavern. Good straight sour mash bourbon that has been working up to greatness inside deep char lined oak barrels. It takes 8 full years to mellow all the rough edges out of bourbon. One sip of Kentucky Tavern proves it. Just a soft whisper of rich flavor. Never talks back to you. Makes a smooth marriage with water. Or any mix. Matter of fact, once you taste what an 8 year old bourbon can do you may never think young again.

Puzzle Solved - Why Two Lights And Why Do They Work Alike?

The puzzle of why there are now two traffic lights on East Fourth Street in front of the Illinois Central viaduct has been explained for the press by Fulton Mayor Gilbert DeMyer.

A single light was used at the busy intersection on U. S. 45 for many years, then suddenly a few weeks ago it was replaced by the state highway department with two new and identical lights which work in unison. But often they seem to fail to work in unison, too. DeMyer said that almost everybody he meets wants to know what the idea is.

It seems that the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, in charge of the federal highway system, has decreed that before the end of 1967 there must be a separate light for each lane of traffic where lights are used on U. S. highways or it will withdraw its aid funds.

Reasons cited for the duplication are better visibility and greater reliability.

The new lights are specially designed to automatically adjust themselves to traffic conditions. The lights stay green for traffic on East Fourth to keep Lake Street clear unless a car coming from under the viaduct trips a switch embedded in the street. When this happens, the light changes just long enough to let the car through the intersection.

DeMyer whose place of business is located there, said that he has observed a number of cars approach the light from the viaduct and stop behind the embedded switch. This, of course, does not trip the light and it stays red, when the car's driver finally decides it is out of order and starts through the intersection, his car goes over the switch and, to his amazement the "broken" light turns green.

The moral of this seems to be that automatic systems would be perfect if there were only more automatic people.

Kentucky To Build Museum At Pennyrite

The State will build a museum at Pennyrite Battlefield State Park with a cyclorama, a huge visual display of the Civil War battle that occurred on the site.

State Parks Commissioner Robert Bell said the construction will be completed by next spring.

The building will be a two-story-level structure with 2,800 square feet of floor space. The museum will be on the upper level and an apartment for a caretaker will be on the lower level. It will be the seventh museum in Kentucky's parks and shrine system.

Located 321 South Second Street in Union City, Tennessee. Telephone 885-2163.

This is one of the institutions of Union City, which is doing its part in furthering progress and expansion in Obion County, and is deserving of more than passing comment in this review of the progress and expansion aiding in the era of prosperity we are experiencing and bring fame and advertising through the general excellence of its service.

The general purpose of this editorial is to give both the local and outside world an adequate idea of their progress and the general excellence of their various services. We deem it quite appropriate to devote this space to this well known firm. The people who originated this enterprise obtained a liberal education and supplemented this with keen insight into the markets and with this desirable foundation they equipped the firm to render a service unexcelled.

The able management of this concern has constantly adhered to a "square deal to all" policy of giving the maximum quality and quantity of products with safe and sound business principles.

Through their straight forward dealings with the public the management has made friends for the firm and they have taken an active interest in their fellowman, realizing that a concern which is not progressive will wither and die because of its environment.

UNION CITY IRON & METAL COMPANY

Top Market Prices for Scrap Metals, Scrap Iron, Old Batteries, Auto Tin, Radiators and Metals of All Kind.

Located 215 North Depot Street in Union City, Tennessee. Telephone 885-3161.

They buy all kinds of scrap iron, aluminum, brass, copper, lead and other materials, always paying the market prices. You will like to deal with them.

In recent years rapid strides have been made in the industrial and commercial world to speed up production, increase efficiency, and economize where possible. Efficiency experts for years have been baffled with the ever increasing amount of waste material in our industrial plants because they realize that in waste material lays a tremendous amount of capital which at that time was a total loss.

The people who operate this plant are indeed an asset to this community. They make a business of daily or weekly calling at the largest and smallest plants in our section and gathering the waste material that previously was of no value whatever to anyone. That they have been successful is easy to understand. The management has been in this business for many months and pays the market prices for scrap iron that ordinarily would be waste materials. "Take your scrap iron to the Union City Iron and Metal Company and turn it into cash, that would otherwise be considered wasted materials."

Tri-State Roofing & Construction Company

Carey Roofing Contractors, Built-up Roofs, Old and New. Siding, Shingles, Residential, Commercial and Industrial Contractors. Prices and Estimates upon Request.

Located on East Church Street in Union City, Tennessee. Telephone 885-9972.

This firm has made an extensive study of the roofing and siding problems of the day and has looked over the entire field of roofing and siding as represented by the various manufacturers. They have selected most artistic lines of roofing and will be glad to go over any property you have in mind and aid you in selection of a design and color that will make the house individually attractive.

These roofs enhance the value of the property and if you want to sell you will find that an attractive roof will make the house one desired.

Their employees are men who most thoroughly understand the work in hand and who are careful to see that all roofing is correcting and accurately put on. The right amount of space is left everywhere and there is no stinting on materials to thoroughly cover the place so there will be no leaks or trouble after the job is completed. They do not make a lot of dirt about the place which must be cleaned up after they are gone, but when finished clean everything away.

Pride in craftsmanship is the incentive that is moving this popular house to success. The fame of their attractive roofs is spread all over this part of the state and business is coming to them for many miles around.

Down on the Farm

With JIM PRYOR
Agricultural Agent, Illinois Central Railroad
CALF CARE IMPORTANT

This season of the year we should be thinking of the baby calves now on the farms, or will be within the next few weeks. There can never be too much stress placed on the proper care and management of the young cow herd, so I thought it would be well to discuss it today.

It goes without saying that the first few hours are the most important in the early days of the new born calf. Proper sanitation and early nursing will be considered top on the management list. After three or four days the dairy calf should be gradually converted to the nipple bucket and milk replacer. . . as milk is very high priced feed. The nipple bucket should always be kept clean as your milking machine. Now as to milk replacer, if the directions are followed to the letter, and the calves kept just a little hungry and very dry, there should be very few problems with other management requirements. It is also wise, whenever possible, to separate calves into age groups with 3 or 4 to the pen. This will correct a few other problems that may arise from crowding.

A balanced ration of at least 15 percent to 17 percent protein is desirable and should be kept before calves at all times after two weeks. The very best hay available should be added to the ration at this time too. All calves should be dehorned with an electric dehorner before they are three months old. The electric dehorner is clean, fast, and HAS NO AFTER EFFECTS OR OPEN WOUNDS!

I have used several very effective grain rations on heifers and here is one that has given satisfactory results: 200 pounds of crushed ear corn, 200 pounds crimped oats, 40 pounds soybean oil meal, 12 pounds of trace mineral, and 40 pounds molasses. At current prices this will cost you approximately $14.50 for the 494 pound batch. This ration I used on older calves after the 17 percent protein stage. In this ration, any portion you could furnish would naturally reduce the cost. It is NEVER advisable to grind hay, for baby calves or cows in milk!

When the calves are at the proper age, under 8 months, you should have them vaccinated and do your part in keeping our community bangs free. Keep yourself posted on new developments on health and sanitation practices for your future herd.

With the continued use of artificial breeding, selective culling, and record keeping, your dairy operation will look much brighter and be more profitable.

Remember, the proper care or neglect you give that baby calf today will surely be reflected in the milk pails of tomorrow. Many of our top dairymen have grown into the dairy business rather than buy into it.

There are more mouths to drink more milk each morning.

Sports Final

R. Paul Westpheling, III

Friday night was the homecoming for the 1964-65 Bulldogs at Memorial Stadium. At impressive ceremonies before the game in which Fulton romped over the Fort Campbell Falcons 25-14, Susan Walker was crowned Queen by senior captain Jimmy Yates. Susan is a senior at Fulton High School. Her attendants were Lana Hutchens, Rita Craven and Mary Elizabeth Mitchell.

It was a victorious night as the Fulton City Bulldogs held the Falcons of Fort Campbell, rated very high in the state, to a 25-14 score. The Bulldogs ground out their 4th win in seven tries. Fulton played an excellent ground offensive attack against the chewed up Falcons.

In the first quarter, quarterback Greg fired a long bullet to halfback Donnie Green. This play covered 102 yards for our first tally. David Mann threw a key block that decided this score.

Ft. Campbell roared back as John Blachini blocked a kick and they converted it into a touchdown as quarterback John Lambro carried the pigskin over for their first tally.

But the Bulldogs came back in the second quarter on a three yard plunge by our great little halfback, James Hurt.

Donnie Green capped a 90 yard drive by Fulton with a one-yard plunge for a touchdown in the third stanza.

Ft. Campbell again scored in the third quarter on a 60 yard pass play Lambro to Don Hutchinson. The Bulldogs scored, ending their effort, with Greg Williamson carrying the pigskin over after a 70 yard drive. In the third Ft. Campbell was forced to kick, but the kick was knocked down and Fulton recovered. This led to our third score of the night. The ball was up in the air, and tackle Terry Willingham caught the ball but dropped it. Tommy Lynn recovered it.

That final score again: Fulton Bulldogs 25, Ft. Campbell 14 in a thriller.

While the Bulldogs were victorious in their game, it was a different story for the luckless Red Devils of St. Fulton. They lost to a mighty Martin team. South Fulton looks for their first when they go against the Fulton High Bulldogs. Go out and see the game at South Fulton. It promises to be a thriller.

An attorney, Mr. Amberg had served as city attorney of Hickman. He was president of the Fulton County Levee Board and head of Planters Gin Company.

He was also a member of the executive committee of the Lower Mississippi Valley Flood Control Commission and was past president of the First Judicial Bar Association of Kentucky.

Also a farmer, Mr. Amberg for years led a drive to build the Fulton County levee and salvage much of the rich Mississippi River Delta farm lands which were not producing due to threat of floods every year.

The levee alone has done much to upgrade the area's standard of living and coupled with the floodwall, which also was completed under the leadership of Mr. Amberg, stands as a monument to the accomplishments of Mr. Amberg for Fulton County, it is said.

He attended Brannon Hughes Preparatory School and Vanderbilt University. He was graduated with a law degree from the University of Michigan Law School.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Charlotte Amberg; one daughter, Mrs. Alice Karsner of Lexington; five sons, James Amberg, A. A. Amberg, W. B. Amberg and Brantley Amberg, all of Hickman, and Charles Amberg of Tampa, Florida.

● CHESTNUT GLADE

By Mrs. Harvey Vaughn

The week end weather reminds everyone that the perfect harvesting season may be swiftly passing and people in this area have certainly been taking advantage of each day, with everyone very busy.

Mrs. Mignon Morrison has been a patient in the Fulton Hospital for the past week and expects to have surgery soon.

Mrs. Ralph McKnight and Mrs. Jack Graves, from Sheffield, Ala., visited Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vaughan last week. Mrs. Lucy Gibbs returned to her home with them, after a visit to the McKnights for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Helen Hall, from Detroit, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Will Reed and other relatives here. Mrs. Clay McConnell has returned to her home in Chicago, after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Reed.

Mrs. Will Reed is improving some, after a few days in the Obion County Hospital.

Friends will be glad to know that Mrs. Roy Watts was able to attend church Sunday morning, after suffering a heart attack some time ago. She was a hospital patient for several weeks and has been a shut-in for some time.

Miss Dorothy Jane Reams, who had surgery in the Baptist Hospital in Memphis last Tuesday, is reported to be improving nicely and expects to be home soon.

Vascoe Simpson, who also had surgery in the Baptist Hospital in Memphis last Tuesday, is reported to be showing some improvement, though still in a serious condition. To those who looked for news from Chestnut Glade last week, the writer was substituting for Mrs. Mignon Mayo Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Dresden School, so no news, for that is a full-time occupation.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Copeland and Gary and Mrs. Clara Nix spent the week end in Clarksdale, Miss., visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nix Sawyers. Mr. and Mrs. Watt Chenault, from Houston, Miss., spent Sunday with them.

Mrs. Jim Burke received word that her sister Delma, who lives in California, underwent brain surgery last week. The last report was that her condition is as well as could be expected.

● AUSTIN SPRINGS

By Mrs. Carey Frieleds

Mrs. Inez Vincent is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Grover True, and Mr. True this week and having a nice visit while here. Mrs. Vincent is from the Pilot Oak section.

Mrs. Cleo Cherry was transferred from the Fuller-Morgan Hospital Friday to the Baptist Hospital for further treatment. All her many friends are most anxious that she will very quickly respond.

Mrs. Lexie Simpson suffered a heart attack the past week and is now in the Obion County Hospital for treatment. We hope she will soon be quickly restored.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Westbrook in the loss of his mother, Mrs. Fannie Westbrook, who passed away at home in Nashville, after a lingering illness. Funeral and burial were in Dresden Monday.

Over at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grover True Sunday the following were dinner guests: Mr. and Mrs. Wess Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Austin, Rev. and Mrs. Russell Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rickman and son Bobby, Mrs. Inez Vincent. All enjoyed the repast at noon and the hospitality of the True home.

Mother Nature is colorful at this season, when the trees and all foliage change to many hues. On a drive through the country you will see a picture more beautiful than an artist can paint. Take a glance on your next drive you make, stop and view the beautiful scenery.

Kentucky Ends Fiscal Period With 7 Million

Kentucky State Government closed the 1963-1964 fiscal year with a $7 million surplus in the General Fund. That is about $700,000 more than State officials had expected to carry over to the current 1964-65 fiscal year, State Budget Director Robert Cornett reported.

He said $1.4 million of the surplus came from the Department of Economic Security which had that sum left over after carrying out its various public assistance programs. Another $1 million came from the Department of Education which had that much in surplus funds after financing the Minimum Foundation Program for the year.

Your Wisest investment of time... REGULAR CHURCH WORSHIP

"I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord."

MAKING WAY...

The drawbridge makes way for the boat to come into the city and down the canal. Dredges make canals in open waters such as the gulf to make way for ships to travel an inter-coastal waterway. Police officers and secret service men clear a path in the crowds to make way for an important foreign potentate so that he might arrive at his destination.

Church members are the ones who can clear the way, and show the right path to those who have not found the way to our Lord.

Isaiah 40:3B reads, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God."

Support your church in every way you can. Ask someone to attend church with you this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

program is at a level we all wish to see.

The biggest boon to achieving the first class program goals we have set for ourselves in Kentucky was the passage of the Mental Retardation Facilities and Community Mental Health Act of 1963. This legislation which was offered by the Democratic Administration authorized a broad program to prevent, treat, and ameliorate mental illness. In effect this federal legislation gives new hope and impetus to the Kentucky effort in the field of retardation. President Johnson has pledged to continue these programs.

His opponent, Senator Goldwater, on the other hand, is on record as saying, "The Government must begin to withdraw from social welfare programs."

(The Chicago Tribune, Sept. 25, 1961)

In his book, The Conscience of a Conservative, Senator Goldwater further says: "Let welfare be a private concern. Let it be promoted by individuals and families, by churches, private hospitals, religious service organizations, community charities and other institutions that have been established for this purpose."

I solicit your support for President Johnson who believes that mental health is a public concern. I urge you to vote Democratic November 3.

Sincerely,

Frank R. Paxton

Pictures Speak Millions of Words!

There's an old adage in the newspaper business that says: "One picture speaks a thousand words." At no time can this term be more appropriately used than in reporting the color, the sweep and the magnitude of the Second Annual International Banana Festival held in Fulton from September 27, through October 3.

In this pictorial section the editor and publisher of the Fulton News chronicle herewith the highly successful events of the Banana Festival. It would take millions of words to describe each significant program that brought pleasure to the more than 40,000 persons who came to see and share the Festival with us.

Yes, with these pictures we hope we can tell the story as it should be told, with all the enthusiastic planning and initiative it commanded to make the second festival the giant success that it was.

We are indebted to the Fulton Daily Leader, the Paducah Sun-Democrat, the Louisville Courier-Journal, the Kentucky Department of Public Information and to the Texas Gas Transmission Company for the use of their photographs.

We wish it were possible to have given more complete coverage to all the events of the Festival, but of course for us, it would have been an impossible task of production and photography.

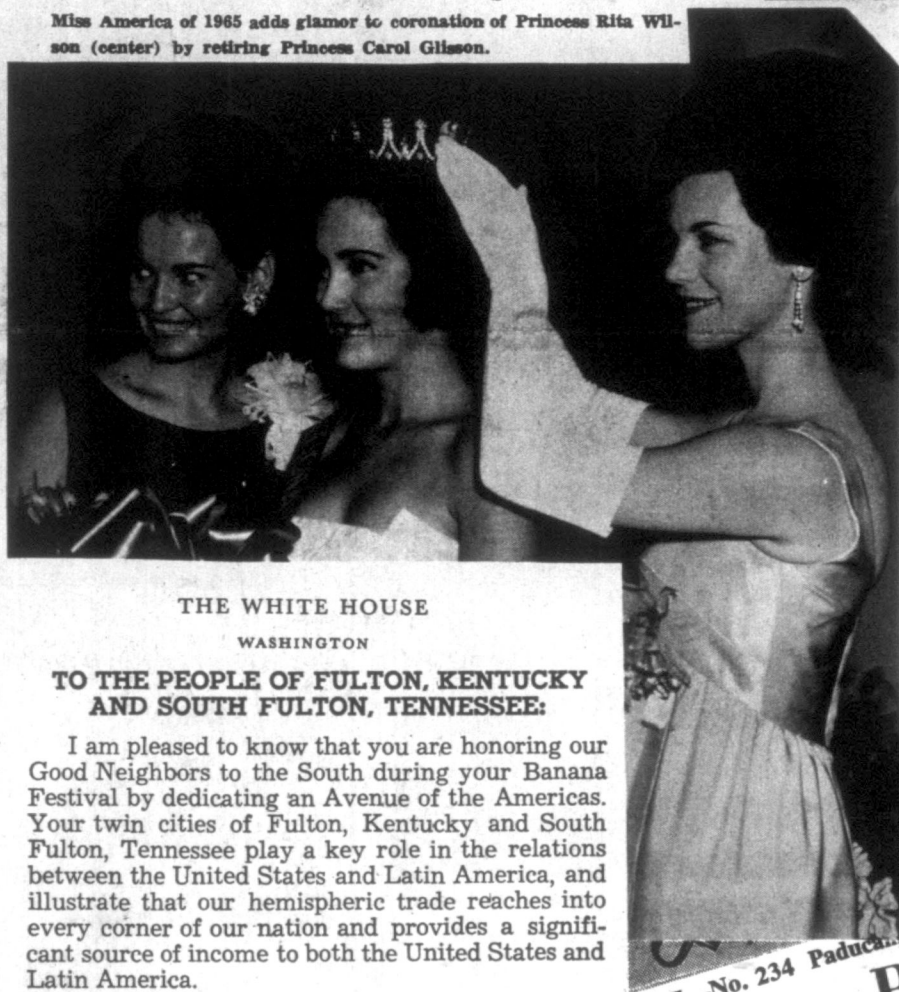

We do hope you enjoy this issue. Keep one for your scrapbook. Send other copies to friends and relatives so that the story of our Festival can travel far and wide within the boundaries of these United States, and this world.

Doing this will do much to spread the sincerity of our "Project-Unit Us" to make long and lasting friendships with our friends in Latin-America. To prove to them and to ourselves, our amazing "coincidence of interest."

TO THE PEOPLE OF FULTON, KENTUCKY AND SOUTH FULTON, TENNESSEE:

I am pleased to know that you are honoring our Good Neighbors to the South during your Banana Festival by dedicating an Avenue of the Americas. Your twin cities of Fulton, Kentucky and South Fulton, Tennessee play a key role in the relations between the United States and Latin America, and illustrate that our hemispheric trade reaches into every corner of our nation and provides a significant source of income to both the United States and Latin America.

To the people of Fulton, bananas are a principal element in your economy. To other cities in the United States and Latin America it may be trade in sugar, or coffee or automobiles. Whatever the commodity, strengthening and expanding trade between the nations of this Hemisphere is fundamental to the growth and prosperity of our cities and our states. It will build a Hemisphere of peace and prosperity for ourselves and for our children.

"When people in this hemisphere believe that their country's interests lie on a parallel course with another-like ours-then we have a coincidence of interest. And that is the only means for a solid understanding."

From a statement by Undersecretary of State for Latin-American Affairs Thomas Mann. Time, January 31, 1964.

THE INTEREST of Kentuckians in Latin America is getting a lively demonstration these days. Two separate events, in Louisville and in Fulton, carry a Latin American flavor.

Louisville will play host next week to the Inter-American Municipal Congress. Mayor Liam O. Cowger is acting president of the congress, and it was on his personal invitation that the congress is coming to Louisville.

as Latin America Day. This is part of a bigger event, the second annual International Banana Festival. The town on the Kentucky-Tennessee line is an important transit point for the rail shipment of bananas. Flags of nine Latin American countries which raise bananas will deck the streets, and such varied celebrities as Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman and the reigning Miss America, Vonda Kay Burke, will appear.

great many Kentuckians ever have "unity to travel in Central and South America" can learn a good deal about the part of the world here at the festival. And the visitors will learn the legend of Kentucky in fact.

Banana Festival Is A Worthwhile Project

We don't know who originated the idea of the International Banana Festival. But if we were putting on a civic project of this kind we sure would like to have him, or them, plan and execute it for us.

Here is a worthwhile civic project with imagination, depth and a great potential for endurance. The cooperation demonstrated by the citizens of Fulton and South Fulton in putting it on serves as an effective and appropriate reminder of one of the festival's principal aims—to promote cooperation and understanding between the United States and the banana-producing nations of Central America. The fact that the U.S. State Department and other government officials think enough of the Fulton-South Fulton festival to send representatives and help promote it is proof of its value as a vehicle for improving the good relations already exist between the Central American countries and the fact that the Central American nations are interested enough to send their ambassadors, two teams, a dance team, a marching band, machete experts and some representative citizens bodes well for the future of international understanding which it attempts to advance.

There will be no dearth of entertainment at the three-day festival which opens Thursday and that, too, which opens credit on the influx of 100,000 visitors and there is no reason to believe they will not receive that many, and more.

Costa Rican Ambassador Gives Welcoming Address

A former railroad dispatcher came to a railroad town last Friday and brought greetings to a Festival-happy community from the President of the United States. He was amazed and extremely complimentary of the Festival's people-to-people approach.

W. Averill Harriman, Undersecretary of State for Political Affairs, and one of the world's most distinguished diplomats, talked to this reporter often of his "working on the railroad." The former Ambassador to the Soviet Union and to the Court of St. James, comes from one of America's most prominent railroad families. The great statesman, who talked along the caravan's route of warm and personal experiences with Winston Churchill, Presidents Franklin Roosevelt, Harry Truman and the late John F. Kennedy, was equally as warm in his praise of the people in the twin cities for the program they devised to make friendships with the banana-producing countries of Latin-America.

At one time the Undersecretary asked: "Did you have a professional Festival-planning organization do your program?" When told that the entire program was devised and put into motion by nearly every able-bodied person in the twin cities he said:

"If only more communities in America would do things like this, we'd have no problems in the diplomatic field." In each of his conversations and his formal addresses Mr. Harriman praised the twin cities for its initiative saying: "This International Banana Festival and its theme of 'Project-United Us' symbolizes the interdependent nature of the world in which we are living—I commend you and congratulate you."

President Johnson's special representative, joined the Costa Rican and Ecuadorian ambassadors to the United States in dedicating the "Avenue of the Americas" at the south edge of Fulton near where Kentucky and Tennessee join.

The avenue, an island between two highways, is lined with flags of Latin-American countries and there is a sign that tells of the festival's theme, "Project United Us," plus an explanation of the

Rita Wilson Is 1965 Banana Princess

3-B The Fulton News, Thursday, Oct. 22, 1964

A 23-year-old brown-haired Fulton girl, Rita Wilson, was crowned 1965 International Banana Princess here Saturday night.

Miss Wilson topped a field of 27 in the International Banana Festival beauty pageant, her fetching smile and dancing blue eyes capturing the four judges—two men and two women.

Chosen as Miss Tennessee in 1961 and as Miss Congeniality at the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City, she has won numerous beauty titles, including Miss Dixie and finalist in Miss World. She was also named a top beauty at Ole Miss, where she was a student before enrolling at Northwestern.

The new Princess was crowned by her predecessor, Miss Carol Glisson, and Miss Vonda Kay Van Dyke, Miss America of 1965, presented her with a bouquet of roses. Miss Rita Munsey of Knoxville, Miss Tennessee, was presented and sang a medley, which went over in a big way with the audience.

First runner-up was Miss Di Anne Guinn, 19, of Paris, Tenn. This brown haired, blue eyed miss won the Miss Weakley County title and was selected Miss Congeniality for 1964 Miss Tennessee Pageant at Jackson. She is a student at UTMB, Martin and a graduate of Grove High, Paris.

Second runner-up was Carolyn Currier Hamlet, also of Paris, Tenn., and a student at Mississippi State College for Women. She represented Tennessee in the United States Pageant and was named Miss Sportsmanship and was Miss Sequoia at Bristol, Va.

Harriman Says Festival Run Like Good Railroad

UNDER SECRETARY OF STATE
FOR POLITICAL AFFAIRS
WASHINGTON

October 6, 1964

Dear Mrs. Westpheling:

I can't thank you enough for your warm hospitality during my visit to Fulton. I was grateful for your most gracious introduction. I enjoyed my talk with you and your friends in your charming home.

I want to congratulate you and all of those who worked so hard to make the International Banana Festival a success. It was a well run show from beginning to end, which I know takes a lot of skillful planning. It was up to the finest standards of railroad operation!

Again, with my thanks and warm regards,

Sincerely,

W. Averell Harriman

It took a lot of railroading to get the Festival publicized and in high locomotion. In photos starting at top left, Mrs. Shelton Owens leads a group of local citizens on one of the many "runs" into Kentucky and Tennessee tooting a loud whistle about the Festival... Members of the Civitan Club and their wives worked long hours to make the colorful decorations that added a festive air to downtown... dozens of uniformed soldiers gave VIP protection to all the visiting dignitaries... that's an elaborate sign on Lake Street told visitors where in the center photograph Mayor Gilbert DeMyer and scenery as the visitors go rolling along... and even the last photograph shows Senorita Pilar Rodriguez of Costa Rica taking the last banana off the bunch. You can see that a lot of other folks enjoyed the free fruit "growing" out of parking meters during the three-day event.

Mrs. Fowlkes' Banana Loaf Wins $100 Prize

Wilma Lee Blevins, American Dairy Princess, presented the checks to the county winners and Miss Rita Munsey, Miss Tennessee, made the presentations to the professional division.

Mrs. Hendon Wright was the master of ceremonies and Aunt Jimima was a special guest, and delighted the spectators with two numbers. A jungle scene, featuring banana trees, palms, rubber trees, monkeys and birds, formed the background for the presentation ceremony.

Giving autographs to admirers is one of the chief duties of Miss America. Here Vonda Kay Van Dyke is giving one to a hostess at Miss America's Milady's luncheon. Seated next to Miss America is Mrs. Nathan Wade, wife of the Festival's president.

Looking like a fashion plate, Miss America Vonda Kay Van Dyke talks "lady talk" at Milady's luncheon held on Saturday noon. It was FOR WOMEN ONLY. Beaming approval of Miss America's talk is Mrs. David Phelps, one of the key Festival workers who planned the luncheon.

It couldn't happen to a nicer person. Here Rita Munsey, Miss Tennessee of 1965 is being made an honorary citizen of the twin cities by Mayor Gilbert DeMyer. The ladies in the background enjoyed the whole affair.

Ooops, don't take my picture, Mrs. R. V. Putnam seems to be saying as she was caught in an informal pose at the Banana Bake-off awards program. Others seated with Mrs. Putnam, co-chairman with Mrs. James Green of the highly successful Bake-off are American Dairy Princess Wilma Lee Blevins and Banana Festival Princess Carol Glisson.

Interest In Crafts Makes People To People Talk

Hostess Ana Maria Crespo Of Guatemala Delights Visitors At Arts & Crafts Display

Spectators who visited the Arts and Crafts display at the Second International Banana Festival not only had an opportunity to see the Guatemalan handwork, but also had a chance to meet Miss Ana Marie Crespo, the hostess of the display.

A native of Guatemala, Miss Crespo is a high official of the Guatemalan Tourist Commission, a branch of the government. After completing her education in the United States, she worked for a travel agency before joining the tourist commission.

Among the colorful native Guatemalan cotton and woolen exhibits were blankets, table cloths, napkins, embroidered bolts of material, dresses, jackets, belts, hand towels, and coasters. Each of the items was hand-made and had a distinctive pattern.

Mrs. Florinda Hernandez of Guatemala demonstrated how the natives weave cotton and wool on her own loom at the display. The patterns she weaves symbolize different things from everyday native life, such as furrows in a field. Her loom is made from rope and wood is called the telido. The base of it is tied around her back by a thick leather strap.

It takes about four months to weave enough cloth for a blouse. The natives start from raw, unprocessed cotton from which they make their own thread to be used in weaving the material. They also dye the material by hand, using chemical dyes.

Hand-carved wooden trays made from soft conacaste wood illustrated the natives' artistic ability. One of the most striking wooden displays was a set of wooden dishes made from jacote frail, the hardest and most beautiful wood found in Guatemala.

Hand-painted pottery, jewelry made from silver and inlaid gold, and straw boxes decorated with paint and woven designs received much attention from visitors at the display. An antique wedding chain, hand made of solid silver, was the subject of much curiosity and praise. Each of these items was intricate and detailed, requiring much time and patience.

Looking at the exhibits and admiring them, it is hard for one to believe that these beautiful items were made by people who have no professional training in art or design.

This display brought here from Guatemala attracted large crowds during the full week it was open to the public. Pictured with the Bettys are Mario Flores, of Maya Modern, Guatemala and Anna Maria Crespo of the Tourist Bureau of Guatemala, who served as hostess at the display.

SIDEWALK ARTISTS ATTRACT ATTENTION

A group of sidewalk artists from Henderson, Ky., proved a popular group here yesterday as they did charcoal sketches and pastels in front of the Crafts Display. They were busy all afternoon and until last night. They will be here today and tomorrow.

Take Note Honorable Secretary Thomas Mann!

BANANA CELEBRATION

In railroad yards at the Tennessee-Kentucky line banana cars are dispatched to cities of the North and East. The fruit is unloaded from ships at New Orleans and moves by rail half way up the Mississippi Valley before being assigned to destination cities. Thus the banana is big business for Fulton, Ky., and South Fulton, Tenn.

While other towns have a cotton carnival or a strawberry celebration, the two Fultons have an annual banana festival.

This is an event with added attractions. It calls attention to business across our borders. This is a region in which import-export trade is of high importance because of cotton and new manufacturing plants, yet the ordinary person needs such an event as the Fulton festivities to be reminded of how many jobs depend on a healthy two-way flow of goods in so-called "foreign trade."

The banana festival has also been expanded into an informal good neighbor project. The people of Fulton and South Fulton collect blankets which are sent to children in the Rimmer Memorial Hospital in Quito, Ecuador. And former residents of Fulton who now live along the rails to New Orleans join in. This year's collection in Memphis, for instance, has already produced nearly 100 blankets.

'Operation Baby Blankets'

Fulton Group Aids Hospital In Quito

7-B The Fulton News, Thursday, Oct. 22, 1964

RON JOHNSON
Fulton Democrat Staff Writer
Fulton, Ky., June 27 — "Operation Baby Blankets" most reached the goal here.

dozens of baby blankets were received by the Fulton Festival Committee and Rimmer Memorial Hospital in Quito, Ecuador.

Blankets collected by the committee in Fulton, Ky., and South Fulton, Tenn., were sent to the hospital in Quito, Ecuador.

Blankets collected by the committee in Fulton, Ky., and South Fulton, Tenn., were sent to the hospital in Quito, Ecuador.

Us," will be distributed to needy mothers of newborn babies leaving the hospital.

It is another of the efforts in keeping with the goal of the 1964 festival — to establish people-to-people relations with people of Latin American countries, the committee announced.

What Better Way?

Mrs. Hendon Wright of Fulton originated the idea after reading that many new mothers in some of the countries were so poor that they did not have any type of material in which to wrap small babies brought into the world.

"What better way to make these people know that we are their friends than this — to help a mother in her protective instinct toward her children," Mrs. Wright said.

She added, "We hope that our theme will ring solemnly above the gaiety of the upcoming festival."

Mrs. Andrew Nelson, Mrs. Bob Peterson, and Mrs. Gene Poe led on the committee spearheading the very successful drive.

Mrs. Wright reported that blankets had been sent from all over West Kentucky to Tennessee.

Response has been truly "brilliant," Mrs. Wright said.

Many donations from several clubs picked up for a club project, she reported.

The Pleasant Hill Homemakers Club of Pryorsburg donated a large bundle of blankets. Clubs from Martin, Tenn., Wingo, Casey, Clinton, and other areas surrounding the Twin Cities answered the call to help the plight of not-so-fortunate mothers and infants in neighboring countries to the south.

A card was recently received from the Lexington, Tenn., Business and Professional Women's Club stating the club's desire to participate in the operation by working on the program as its world affairs project for the year.

The Fulton Business and Professional Women's Club also expressed its desire to initiate the same type of program. Blankets are still coming in and donations will be accepted for some time, said Mrs. Wright.

Several places of business around the area serve as receiving centers for the blankets during the main drive, but all other donations should be sent or brought to her home, Mrs. Wright said.

The blankets are in the process of being packed now and an attempt will be made to secure an airlift for them to Quito, it was reported.

The women who did the work on the project say that their gift is "just a symbol of concern and desire to extend a hand of friendship across the barriers of culture and language."

Or, as one of them put it, "Perhaps somewhere in such response to human need is the answer to world peace and understanding."

DID OUR PART, TOO—Mrs. Martha Sue Brooks, right, president of Pleasant Hill Homemakers Club of Pryorsburg, presents the club's contribution to the drive to Mrs. Wright.

Andy Nelson, chairman of the drive committee. Seated are Mrs. Herbie Hunt and Mrs. John Ragsdale.

SHE DOES IT HER OWN WAY—While others sewed on a machine, Mrs. Mace McDade stuck to the craftsman's way—by hand. Behind her preparing "Brigade for Baby Blankets" collections for shipment are Mrs. Pete Byars, Mrs. Gene Poe, Mrs. John Joe Campbell, Mrs. Christine Batts and Mrs. Bill McRura.

LEAVING—Festival Favorite, Donna Axum, Miss America of 1964 who attended the First Banana Festival loads the first bundle of blankets on a Gillum Transfer Company truck for their long voyage to Quito. To send the cargo on its way are, left to right, Miss Lucille Previtt of Atlantic City, Miss America's chaperone, Mrs. Bob Morgan, Mrs. Hendon Wright, Miss America, and Mrs. Maxwell McDade.

ARRIVING—And the cargo got to New Orleans and was received by Consul-General of Ecuador Arregui-Viveri (left) and Mayor Victor Schiro of New Orleans. With the officials are Mrs. Paul Westpheling and Mrs. Hendon Wright.

Banana-Rama Jam Packed With Talent

Kiddie Katz Of South Fulton Take Top Honors In Banana-Rama Talent Show Here Last Night

South Fulton's popular trio, The Kiddie Katz, took the top honor at the 1964 Banana-Rama Talent Show, which highlighted last night's activities in the Banana Festival.

The Kiddie Katz, a novelty group, is composed of Bonita Burrow, Marilyn McKendree and Carmen Gardner, and they won the hearts of the large audience that attended as they received the grand championship prize.

Division winners, receiving the $100 first place prize, included:

Vocal solo — Janet Woodall of Paducah;

Vocal group — (a tie) Madrigal Singers of Paducah, Tilghman and Midcoes Trio of Murray; Instrumental solo — John Reed, organist, of Fulton; Instrumental group — "The Percussions", a dance band, featuring members from Fulton, Greenfield and Hornbeak. Don Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Reed of Fulton and a senior at Fulton High, is the saxophonist in the band.

Dance group — The Polka Dot Kids from Paducah; Novelty group — The Kiddie Katz of South Fulton.

Joe Pat James of Murray and Louis Wafford of Paducah served as emcees for the talent show, and kept the show lively.

There was all kinds of activity on Lake Street last night, with the talent show on one end of the street and square dancing on the other. At the band stand, various combos, dance bands, etc., performed, while dancing was enjoyed in the street. The Lingo games were in progress, and the gigantic fireworks display started the evening's activities.

The town was full of visitors from Latin America and other faraway places and many many, former residents were to be found chatting with old friends in the large crowd that spent the entire evening on Lake street.

Residents of the twin cities showed the Central-American visitors every phase of small-town life. Here Anna Maria Crespo, Paul Kasnow, David Pirile and the director of the Guatemalan band sing a song or two after the Music-Fiesta.

South of Paducah and almost as far southwest as you can go and still be in Kentucky, I was arrested by the curious appearance of the main street of Fulton. The town was jammed with crowds, everybody wore a straw hat with a bunch of plastic bananas on the band, women wore banana corsages, the street lamps were festooned with bananas. Something called the First Annual Banana Festival was in full swing.

Larry Metcalfe, the advertising manager for Standard Fruit Company, took me in tow and explained why a little Kentucky town shivering under a chill autumn breeze was decked out in luxuriant tropical finery.

"Bananas unloaded at Gulf Coast

ports, especially New Orleans, are put into refrigerator cars and shipped to Fulton. Here we take their temperature by sticking a banana thermometer into the heart of a few samples. The fruit must stay between 58 and 60 degrees. We add ice or install heaters, as the weather requires.

"From Fulton the bananas are scattered all over middle America. Many cars are sent here unsold from New Orleans and they sit on the tracks until somebody buys them and sends us a telegram. You can find up to 100 cars sitting in Fulton almost any time. We've handled 14 billion bananas in 25,000 rail cars in the last ten years."

The festival planners were baking a one-ton banana pudding to be served to 10,000 celebrants on the last day of the fair.

The climactic event, scheduled for the next morning, was a contest between three-man teams drawn from officialdom of Kentucky and Tennessee to see which team could shoot down more bananas with a bow and arrow. Winners were to carry home their weight in bananas.

In Kentucky, even the icing of bananas inevitably acquires a carnival to celebrate the industry.

Fiesta Off To Running Start at Banana Olympics

Marimba Causa Sensación en Festival del Banano

Exposición de tejidos y artículos típicos fue visitada por numerosas personas

—Nota de Julio César Anzueto

Exitosa fue la presentación de la marimba guatemalteca Reina del Ejército, en el II festival del banano que tuvo lugar en los primeros días del presente mes en las ciudades gemelas de Fulton, Kentucky y South Fulton, Tennessee, en la zona central de los Estados Unidos.

Según las informaciones que nos fueron enviadas por el jefe de la delegación, señor Guillermo Andreu Corzo, jefe de relaciones públicas de Aviataca —empresa que organizara la mencionada gira—, el conjunto guatemalteco así como una exposición de tejidos y artículos típicos de nuestro país, causaron la admiración de la concurrencia que llegara de diversos estados de la Unión.

Las ciudades de Fulton y South Fulton del sur, gemelas, vecinas, situadas la primera en el estado de Kentucky y la segunda en Tennessee, son consideradas del banano, en los dos, pues ahí se contribuye todo el mes productivo que entra a los Estados Unidos por esos motivos.

Por esos motivos, en la zona central de los Estados Unidos, concurren delegaciones de productores y las empresas manufactureras de textiles de «De los países asistieron este Honduras y muchos se hicieron conjunto de turismo y Guatemala» programas y foros en Kentucky y Tennessee.

Music, Art, Dances, Hospitality, Togetherness Showcases Of Cordiality For "Project-Unit Us"

PROJECT UNITE-US

Project Unite-Us is not just a theme for the Second International Banana Festival. The sincere desire of the people of Fulton, Kentucky, and South Fulton, Tennessee, is that from a single thread of one commercial product, many other areas of common interest can be explored and shown until we have woven a beautiful garment of true friendship and understanding that encompasses all Americans.

Aaltje Van Denburg makes a point at the Arts Exhibit, while local folks look on.

Undersecretary Of State Averell Harriman is in a serious mood as he views serious art with Senor Jose Garcia of the Pan-American Union in Washington. Senor Garcia came to Fulton to hang the valuable art works and exhibit them. They were valued at thousands of dollars.

The famed Marimba Band of Guatemala that caused a sensation at the Music Fiesta and everywhere they went. At far right are Frank Lemaster and Anna Maria Crespo. Members of the Costa Rican dance troupe are all smiles as they visit with Wilma Lee Blevins, the American Dairy Princess.

Jerry Van Dyke, (bless him) wowed 'em at the Inter-American Music Fiesta Friday, then came back the next night and filled in for Al Hirt, who could not get to the Festival because of a Hurricane in New Orleans. A member of Jerry's ensemble is at right.
